

Announcing a 6 hour CEU Law & Ethics Course (Provider #4713)

Offered by the SoCal Social Work Women's Council

Asking the question...

IS LEGAL ALWAYS ETHICAL?

Self-Determination in the Context of Trauma

This course will focus on legal and ethical issues related to client self-determination in the context of trauma. Trauma history can place people on a trajectory that results in a series of poor outcomes, and their available “choices” can be less than optimal and limited in number. How does the social worker balance a commitment to client self-determination, with her obligation to promote client well being? When do social worker efforts to help or guide become intrusive or abusive? This conference will be a consciousness raising experience sharing dilemmas faced by social workers.
